The Student's Handbook of British and American Literature Jun 04 2021

Testing the Reformation Jan 19 2020 In 2009, the Evangelische Kirche (Protestant Church of Germany) commissioned Heinrich Waegner to create a theater play for and with young people to begin the local events for the 500th anniversary of Calvin's birth. Working collaboratively with students at the Protestant High School ("Evangelisches Gymnasium"), where Waegner had been the school drama director of over thirty productions, the playwright developed a fresh, funny, but overall respectful play that will help audiences engage with Calvin's living legacy. Critical response was positive: "Amusing and instructive . . . impressive and meaningful group choreography."Translated from Siegenger Zeitung, 22 June 2009"Of all historical figures, John Calvin, who banned likenesses from the church as incompatible with his rigorous interpretation of the Commandments, is the protagonist-in-the-flesh of Heinrich Waegner's play . . . in which the Reformer nonetheless is given manifold opportunity to debate his doctrines with friends and critics."Translated from Westföliche Rundschau, 20 June 2009"Heinrich Waegner's turbulent historical play indeed fulfils the promise of his audacious motto: 'Calvin: approach him and understand him critically, epitomize and refine, value and challenge, picturize and dance, capture playfully, quest, find, and utilize.'"Karlfried Petri, District Church Office, Siegen-WittgensteinPlaywright Heinrich Waegner taught English, German, and Drama at high schools for 35 years, winning prizes and invitations to festivals all over Europe and North Africa with his creative youth theatre group

Remembering the Reformation Oct 28 2020

The 500th anniversary of the Reformation in 2017 focuses the mind on the history and significance of Protestant forms of Christianity. It also prompts the question of how the Reformation has been commemorated on past anniversary occasions. In an effort to examine various meanings attributed to Protestantism, this book recounts and analyzes major commemorative occasions, including the famous posting of the 95 Theses in 1517 or the birth and death dates of Martin Luther, respectively 1483 and 1546. Beginning with the first centennial jubilee in 1617, Remembering the Reformation: An Inquiry into the Meanings of Protestantism makes its way to the 500th anniversary of Martin Luther's birth, internationally marked in 1983. While the book focuses on German-speaking lands, Thomas Albert Howard also looks at Reformation commemorations in other countries, notably in the United States. The central argument is that past commemorations have been heavily shaped by their historical moment, exhibiting confessional, liberal, nationalist, militaristic, Marxist, and ecumenical motifs, among others.
